Introduction

This document refers to personal data, which is defined as information concerning any living person (a natural person who hereafter will be called the Data Subject) that is not already in the public domain.

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) seeks to protect and enhance the rights of data subjects. These rights cover the safeguarding of personal data, protection against the unlawful processing of personal data and the unrestricted movement of personal data within the EU. It should be noted that GDPR does not apply to information already in the public domain.

P J Margle Heating Ltd is pleased to provide the following Privacy Notice:

Personal Data

P J Margle Heating Ltd uses the information collected from you to provide quotations, make telephone contact and to email you marketing information which P J Margle Heating Ltd believes may be of P J Margle Heating Ltd interest to you and your business. In you making initial contact you consent to P J Margle Heating Ltd maintaining a marketing dialogue with you until you either opt out (which you can do at any stage) or we decide to desist in promoting our services. P J Margle Heating Ltd also acts on behalf of its clients in the capacity of data processor. When working exclusively as a data processor, P J Margle Heating Ltd will be acting on the instruction of its client, and will work hard to ensure that the client is fully GDPR compliant.

Some personal data may be collected about you from the forms and surveys you complete, from records of our correspondence and phone calls and details of your visits to our website, including but not limited to personally identifying information like Internet Protocol (IP) addresses. P J Margle Heating Ltd may from time to time use such information to identify its visitors. P J Margle Heating Ltd may also collect statistics about the behavior of visitors to its website.
